Structural Organization of the Human Body

The human body is a complex, organized system made up of various levels of structural organization:

- Chemical Level: Atoms and molecules forming the building blocks of cells.
- Cellular Level: The basic unit of life, cells, with specialized functions.
- Tissue Level: Groups of similar cells working together to perform specific functions.
- Organ Level: Different tissues combine to form organs with specific roles.
- System Level: Organs work together as systems to maintain bodily functions.

- Organism Level: The entire human body functioning as a single living entity.

Understanding these levels is crucial for grasping how the body maintains homeostasis and responds to various stimuli.

The Major Body Systems in General Anatomy by BDC

The human body comprises multiple interconnected systems. Below are the primary systems covered in general anatomy:
